SIX-SPOT PUTTING COURSE

Make putting decisions under pressure

1 CHOOSE SIX SPOTS

Pick six starting spots, from short putts to long putts. Use one ball.

2 HOLE OUT EACH ONE

Use your full line-and-pace routine. Hole out from every spot and count every stroke.

3 TOTAL AND COMPARE

Add all six stroke counts. Record the total. Use the same spots next session.

Your six-spot putting scorecard

Six-Spot Putting Course: Count Every Stroke

Choose six short-to-long starting spots and use one ball. Hole out from each spot, count every stroke and add the six scores. Lower is better.

Date: _____ Location: _____ Green / slope: _____

1 Choose six spots

Note each starting position and its target hole. Give the spots an order you can use again next session.

2 Hole out each one

Use your full routine before every putt. Play the next stroke from where the ball finishes and count every tap-in.

3 Total and compare

Complete all six spots and add their stroke counts. Repeat the same starting spots and target holes next time.

Record a starting-spot reference and the strokes to hole out.

Include every first putt, follow-up putt and tap-in. Add all six stroke counts.
